"A WISE PHYSICIAN IS MORE THAN ARMIES TO THE PUBLIC WEAL"

(Author's Name Below)

"Weal" is an old English word that means welfare, and everyone agrees that physicians are worth more than armies.

Modern physicians have new skilled diagnostic techniques that enable them to more certainly know the cause of a sickness. The pharmaceutical profession supplies them with many new perfected drugs that can be depended upon to accomplish a desired result. Physicians no longer rely on just a few medicines carried in their bag or office. They write a prescription for the one drug that will help most.

Will Be Considered Sept. 16; BPW Wants $280,000; New Gravel Pit By-Law Proposed

Almost one-third of the town's area will become "rural" — meaning two-acre house lots — if special articles drawn by the Planning Board are approved by town meeting Sept. 16, according to a map showing the proposed changes.

And among the Board's special articles are some moving present B Zone areas up to Zone C — one-acre lots.

One town official estimated this week that two-thirds of the town will be either in B or C Zones if the 10 special articles are adopted. And the present Zone B — 150-foot frontage and 30,000 square feet, will have been reduced to a small area except for sections now almost entirely built up.

A total of 10 special articles covering zoning are included among 16 articles to be considered when the special session convenes at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Auditorium.

16 Articles In All

Other articles include the Board of Public Works request for $280,000 — the cost of tying in two test wells and constructing a water main along Porter rd. for about a mile and one quarter.

A gravel pit by-law — placing responsibility in the hands of the Selectmen to control the pits — will be proposed. If accepted, another article asks repeal of the present by-law, which designates the Appeals Board as being responsible for permits to excavate in order to sell sand and gravel.

5000 To Attend Schools Here By Mid-September

"Back to School" — that most heralded of September events — once again becomes a reality this coming Monday, when Andover's public school doors open wide to 2,980 students. By the middle of the month — Sept. 17 to be exact — nearly 5,000 boys and girls will be attending Andover schools, a record in the annals of all local educational institutions.

Phillips Academy, opening its 179th year, of course heads the high enrollment lists of independent schools, with 790 boys trekking into Andover from 32 states, the District of Columbia and 11 foreign countries.

Surveyors Work On Rt. 110 Here

Surveying parties from the State Department of Public Works have been busy in Andover in the past two weeks.

Route 110 planning has accounted for the step-up in activity here, it is reported. The crews have been busily engaged in the Fletcher-Binney st. area, where preliminary plans showed the new highway virtually wiping out the residential section.

It is expected that public hearings will be held this fall — perhaps in October — when nearly-final plans will be available. Those plans will show the route

They're Hurting The Voters

Secret meetings and closed meetings have been in the news again — this time, as in several instances in recent months, at the behest of the Board of Public Works.

The press was barred from a session at which engineers went thoroughly into the water supply situation and explained in detail the program they recommend — tying in two test wells and constructing over a mile and a quarter of 16-inch water main. The Selectmen attended the meeting and, it is understood, approved the project after hearing it described in detail.

It seems that some men in public offices fail to see their responsibility to the voters, the men and women who elect them. Instead, because some of these officials dislike honest criticism, the press is barred as a measure designed to embarrass the press itself.

What should be obvious to these officials, but apparently isn't, is that only the voters are harmed. The press itself acts as only an intermediary between official bodies and the citizens who elect their members. It is not vital that the press should attend official meetings except in its position as a reporter of current affairs to all the people of the community.

So what is designed by some officials as punishment for members of the press who have been critical of official board actions turns out to be actually an act against the public interest.

Perhaps some day public officials, who spend much time and effort in seeking office, will suddenly recall their obligation to the people who elected them. And when that day comes, if it does, we will see the last of punitive closed-meeting decisions.

Water Article Should Pass

It's gratifying to note the prompt action of the Board of Public Works in requesting a special town meeting to act on water supply problems.

For certainly, if there ever has been a need for speed, this is the occasion. Only quick and affirmative action by the Board — and by the voters — can solve this present emergency. Action Sept. 16 at the special session can mean adding a full million gallons of water daily, starting next spring or summer. Delay until an annual meeting, on the other hand, means no extra water until late fall of 1958.

We have many times, in the past weeks, urged this step. We have been quick to point out that this program, while costing money, is necessary. And we still feel, though perhaps $300,000 may be involved, that it is the only correct step to take.

We urge every voter to attend the special town meeting Sept. 16 — and we wholeheartedly endorse the BPW article on water supply.

It sometimes pays to bluff — if you can't have your way, pretend the other fellow's is yours.

High productive efficiency — not high wages is what brings about our high living standards.

Many a man has slowed down on the road to success and allowed the other fellow to get ahead.

If a man expects his day dreams to come true he can't afford to spend his nights trying to work them out.

Many a man is better than his reputation — but never better than his principles.

GOURMET "STEALS"

BY
BETTY BLAISDELL

With the smell of harvest in the cool ozone of September . . . and the magnificent autumn colors everywhere in sight, who can resist the temptation to eat heartier and spicier — and to turn out some real home-baked foods once again?

Quick frozen, ready-prepared foods — bless them — are okay when the heat of summer beckons lazier and longer hours outdoors, but there seems to be nothing that can match the smell of pumpkin and apple pies baking or pungent soups and stews simmering on low heat!

A neighbor of mine on Argilla rd. had a curried casserole baking one day last week and I just can't describe how wonderful it looked and smelled as it came out of the oven! She had used left-over lamb in making it, but having her recipe in my hand and no lamb in my own refrigerator, I decided to try it out on the second chicken left from dinner the night before — the wings were gone and some of the breast meat, but it seemed plentiful . . . and I had some good rich soup stock stored away which I could use for the liquid.

Here is her recipe for what I consider to be a wonderful staple casserole for any family!

CURRY CASSEROLE

- 1 lb. left-over meat
- 1 pt. rich bouillon
- 2 Tbl. butter
- 1 large onion
- 1 Tbl. curry
- 1 cup uncooked rice
- Dash of soya sauce
- Salt to taste
- Bread crumbs
- Melted butter

Chop the onion and saute in butter until lightly brown, add cut up meat and curry, stir and heat thoroughly. Add bouillon, stir and cook, covered, slowly for no more than 30 min. You will not want to cook down the liquid too much for with the rice that is added you will need about a cup and a half. Now cook the rice, drain and separate the grains by rinsing with very hot water, and add to the mixture. Season with soya sauce and salt to taste. The consistency at this point should be almost as you like to serve it and you can adjust it as you please (add more bouillon if not enough liquid — or go heavy on the bread crumb topping if too much). Place all in a greased casserole, add your bread crumbs and melted butter. Brown under the broiler for about 5 or 10 min. Serves 4 to 6.

BURNT SUGAR CAKE (Mrs. Ralph A. Rosenblad)

This sounds so good I shall have to try it the very next cake I bake. Mrs. Rosenblad, being a minister's wife and busy mother, too, no doubt has had much success with it. First she makes a syrup with:

- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup boiling water

She browns the sugar in a skillet until melted and smoking, then adds the water to make the syrup.

The cake goes like this:

- 1½ cup sugar
- ½ cup butter
- 2 eggs yolks
- 1 cup water
- 2½ cups flour
- 2 rounded tsp. baking powder
- 3 Tbl. burnt sugar syrup
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 beaten egg whites

Add ingredients in order given and bake at 375 degree oven. The remaining syrup may be used to flavor the frosting.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS WITH EASY HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

A delicious fall vegetable with a sauce that's so easy I often serve it with other vegetables such as frozen asparagus, or cauliflower . . . even spinach with a hard-boiled egg sliced for garnish.

- 1 qt. Brussels sprouts
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- Dash cayenne
- 2 Tbl. lemon juice
- 2 egg yolks

Cook Brussels sprouts in boiling salted water until tender. For Sauce: Melt butter in double boiler over one inch boiling water. Add cayenne, lemon juice and egg yolks. Reduce heat; beat well with rotary beater until thick.

SHRIMP-HERB CASSEROLES

There's whimsy and a bit of cost to this "party" offering, but if you love shrimp the way I do and find yourself with a whole new fresh shelf of herbs to play with, you might want to try this. I "stole" it some time ago from a hostess-friend who specified "Bristol Cream Sherry" among the list of ingredients. Well, if you have Bristol Cream Sherry and can bear or afford to cook with it, more power to you!

- 2 lbs. shrimp shelled de-veined and cooked
- 1 clove garlic
- 1/3 tsp. tarragon
- ½ tsp. dried parsley
- ¼ tsp. chervil
- 1 tsp. finely chopped onion

At The Library

Thoughtful Readers

A book to add dimension to man's thinking is the recent addition to the series, "World Perspectives", edited by Ruth Anshen, entitled "Dynamics of Faith" by Paul Tillich.

Dr. Tillich believes that there is no word which has seen so much distortion as the word "faith". In this short book he attempts to reinterpret the word, to show that there is no conflict between science and faith and to establish the significance of faith in our lives today.

"World Perspectives" aims to make available for thoughtful readers the thinking of some of the most distinguished world leaders and thinkers. The most recent title in the series is Edmund Ware Sinnott's "Matter, Mind and Man". Earlier titles, all of which may be found at the Memorial Hall library, include "The Art of Loving", Fromm; "Approaches to God", Maritain; "Discovery of Faith", Radhakrishnan; "World Indivisible", Adenauer and "Society and Knowledge", Child.

Western World

This is the title of a new magazine in the field of current opinion just making its appearance. It will be an attempt to present an exchange of ideas and constructive criticism among the countries in the North Atlantic community. Its masthead lists magazine editors from each of the countries with Rene Dabernat, editor-in-chief for Europe and Edgar Ansel Mowrer, editor-in-chief for North America. The list of sponsors reads like an international "Who's Who".

New Books

Fiction: "Less Than Angels" by John Ford; "The Thousand Fires" by John Ford; "The Golden Strangers" by John Ford; "Take Me to Your Pre-destined" by John Ford; "The Strangled Queen" by John Ford; "The Blue Cup and Other Stories" by John Ford; "Revelation and Roses" by John Ford; "Subi-ter Volcano" by John Ford; "Lady In Waiting" by John Ford; "Behold We Live" by John Ford; "The Sandcastle" by John Ford; "The Big War" by John Ford; "In Time of Greenbloom" by John Ford; "Complete Works" by John Ford; "Life At Happy Knoll" by John Ford; "Coup de Grace" by John Ford.

Mystery Stories: "Be Shot For Sixpence" by John Ford; "Death of An Ambassador" by John Ford; "Three For The Chair" by John Ford; "So Deadly My Love" by John Ford; "Best Detective Stories of the Year, 1957" by John Ford; "Sweet Nothing" by John Ford.

Non-Fiction: "They Fought For" by John Ford; "The Art of Loving" by John Ford; "Approaches to God" by John Ford; "Discovery of Faith" by John Ford; "World Indivisible" by John Ford; "Matter, Mind and Man" by John Ford.

Plan Opening Day Tour For High School Pupils

A first assembly in the beautiful new auditorium of Andover High School, followed by a guided tour of the entire plant, will feature the opening of school for all the sophomores, juniors and seniors, who will enter their new school "home" Monday morning at 8:10 a.m.

Plans are virtually completed for the opening and the entire faculty will be on duty Sept. 4 through Sept. 6 to work out final details for the new arrangements. For the guided tour, a group of pupils chosen last year and instructed for tour duty, will conduct the students Monday as well as on any other trips which may be necessary to thoroughly acquaint them with the building. Homeroom assignments were published in last week's issue of the TOWNSMAN.

Buses will unload students at the auditorium entrance. All students who arrive before 7:55 a.m. will be requested to use this entrance and to wait in the lunch room until the homerooms are open.

School sessions will run from 8:10 a.m. to 2 p.m., which is a change from an earlier plan to extend the school day 10 minutes.

Business Attire

Questions concerning the "can" and "can't's" of dress have been asked of the school administration, it was learned today. Rather than set down any hard and fast rules on students' dress, it is the wish of the school that the students themselves give careful thought to the matter of their appearance and the appropriateness of dress. Headmaster Lindsay J. March points out that since relationships in school are much like those in an office, appropriate business attire sets a desirable and expected standard by which to go.

Pupils who have completed summer study and those who are new to the system should make appointments with Guidance Director Bernard Kellmurray at once if they have not yet done so. The Guidance office number is 3129. Pupils who have done private tutoring by prearrangement with the office should communicate with Mr. March, Tel. 2933.

So far, 105 persons have filed. Last year, 186 applied for the exemption.

WAITING FOR STEEL — The sub-structure of Route 28 bridge across the Merrimack River is ready and waiting for contractors to go ahead with the bridge construction itself. athletic field and pavilion style roof over the hockey rink — another school year opens at illustrious "P.A."

Headmaster John Mason Kemper announced that 215 boys will be receiving financial assistance, in accord with the traditional scholarship policy of making the school available to all deserving boys regardless of financial circumstances. He also announced the following faculty appointments for the coming year:

Camille Bauer of Paris, France, joins the department of French as does also Gerald D. Ferris, who comes from Milton Academy. Bauer graduated from Mt. Allison University in 1947 and received his M.A. from Middlebury in 1952. He also holds the Certificate D'etudes from the University of Paris.

Arthur William Goodall, a native of Arlington, joins the Chemistry Department. He received his AB from Tufts in 1955 and his Ed.M. from Boston University in 1957.

Gerald Shertzer comes to Phillips as a member of the Art Department. His impressive background includes a diploma from the High School of Music and Art in New York City; a B.A. from Cooper Union in 1954 and a B.F.A. from the Yale School of Fine Arts in 1956. Mr. Shertzer has taught sculpture at the Foote School in New Haven and at Yale.

William Henry Yale Stevens, a graduate of the Academy in the class of 1937, comes to Andover from Thomas Jefferson School in St. Louis, Mo. A graduate of Yale, Stevens has also taught at Sheffield Academy in Sheffield, Conn. He served four years with the U.S. Navy in World War II. He will be teaching chemistry and physics.

In addition to these regular faculty appointments, Mr. Kemper announced the appointment of five teaching fellows, who will begin their teaching careers under the program started last year.

The Teaching Fellow program is an experiment in teaching training and recruiting. It is planned for college graduates who have not had any teaching experience and is a reversal of the normal graduate program, by having the fellows teach under supervision for one year, followed by one year of graduate study. The fellows for this year include:

Charles C. Alexander, who received his B.A. from Williams College this past June, for the department of Latin.

Cornelius Allen, a graduate of Hobart, who has done graduate study at McGill and Columbia. During his under-graduate years at Hobart, Allen took a year's leave of absence at the University of Rennes, France. He will be a teaching fellow in the Department of French.

James Kraft comes to Andover in the Departments of English and Art from Princeton University, where he received his A.B. this year.

John Richards II, for the History department, received his A.B. cum laude from Harvard in 1950 and is a veteran of the U.S. Army Air Force.

Edwin T. Williams, also a graduate from Princeton, received his A.B. this year. He will be in the Department of Spanish.

Regular faculty on leave of absence this year include A.B. Darling, Patrick Morgan, Thomas Regan and Elbert Weaver.

Abbot Academy

Opening on Tuesday, Sept. 17, with the day students arriving for the opening of classes on the following day, 224 girls will be greeting a new school year at Abbot.

Considerable painting, re-furbishing and some new furniture have brightened up the rooms and study halls and among the major changes has been the moving of the music studios to Draper Homestead across the street. The old music studios have been made into attractive rooms for the seniors.

Changes in faculty and personnel are announced as follows:

Mme. Paule Bertin-champs of Belgium, who has been teaching in Brussels, has been appointed to the French Department.

Janet Fraser of Wellesley will teach history and english as will also John S. Iverson Jr., who comes to Abbot from the Webb School in California. Mrs. Iverson, his wife, will be assistant in residence.

Miss Olthje bon Erpecom, who has been teaching theatre schools in Norway and Italy, has been appointed to the Department of Dramatics and Speech.

Miss Elizabeth Quimby of Lexington, who has been studying at the Chicago Conservatory of Music, has been appointed to the English Department and will also serve as assistant to the principal.

Mrs. Horace Seldon, wife of the pastor of the Free Christian Church, will teach Bible. Other appointments are Mrs. Caroline Eaton, from Dana Hall School, at the information desk and Mrs. Henry Davies, receptionist.

Pike School

One hundred and ten boys and 85 girls will create a new high-enrollment record for Pike School when the doors open Wednesday morning, Sept. 11. Of these, 45 boys and 42 girls will comprise the Upper School body, grades five through eight. Twelve different communities in the Merrimack Valley are represented on the school's roster.

In order to continue the policy of small classes, Headmaster William H. Harding announces that two new teachers have been appointed to the faculty. Earle Warren, a 1956 Yale graduate, will undertake the home room assignment for the sixth grade. He will also serve as the director of the boys' athletic program. He has studied and practiced elementary school teaching at Leslie College in Cambridge.

Mrs. Charles Day, the second appointment, will serve as a home room teacher for a second section of the fifth grade. Mrs. Day is a graduate of Skidmore College and served as a student teacher at Pike during its session last year.

Mrs. Allan Gillingham will share the seventh grade home room assignments with Mrs. Little, since that grade this year has been divided into two sections. Mrs. Gillingham has served for some years as the school's French teacher and will continue her instruction to the boys and girls of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, with the addition of a course in literature and home room duties.

Paul Werner has been engaged to teach arithmetic to grades six through eight, also elementary algebra to qualified boys and girls of the eighth grade. He was associated with the school last year as tutor in this subject.

Interesting curriculum changes include the introduction of Latin at the seventh grade level — qualified pupils. Latin has been taught at the eighth grade for some years, but under the new change it will now be possible for a graduate to have completed a full year of Latin before going to secondary school. Students will have the opportunity to work at a pace geared to their age and ability, through a two-year Latin sequence, before taking state tests for entrance to second grade Latin. Boys and girls who are exceptionally able and interested will be given the opportunity to qualify for both Latin and French during their last two years.

Algebra will be offered to specially qualified boys and girls at the eighth grade level. In order to qualify, a student must demonstrate competence in basic final examinations in eighth grade arithmetic.

These changes in practice result in a dual program at Pike School. The majority of the pupils will continue with a normal seventh and eighth grade program.

of studies. Others, who qualify, will undertake a program designed to challenge their abilities and to afford them an opportunity for placement at equally challenging levels in secondary schools.

St. Augustine's
With the construction of a lovely new playground and a larger garden area and after extensive painting and renovations throughout St.
Augustine's School, the doors will be opened Monday morning to 537 pupils. School sessions will be preceded by the Mass of the Holy Ghost.

Pre-primary children will start school on or about the first of October.

No faculty changes have as yet been announced.
Sacred Heart School

Opening also on the same date as St. Augustine's and the public schools, Sacred Heart School in Shawsheen will admit a total enrollment of 202 boys, of which 37 will be day students. All resident enrollees arrive on Sunday, Sept.
8.

Brother Fernand, principal, has announced three new teachers to the staff - Brother Sylvio for eighth grade, who comes from the Precious Blood Junior High School in Woonsocket; Brother Cyprian, also from the Precious Blood School, for seventh grade; and Brother Edward of Pomfret, Conn., who will teach sixth grade.

Climaxing nine years of painstaking labor, one of the most beautiful examples of artwork on glass can now be viewed with pride by the worshippers in the chapel of Sacred Heart School. It is the great expanse of skylight, painted by a single man during these nine years and now finished for the opening of the new school year.

Decorated to simulate fine stained glass which is in the altar of the chapel, Brother Loyola, the school's instructor of music and director of an extraordinarily fine school band, undertook to decorate in colored varnish the entire skylight consisting of 460 squares of glass with a dimension of 12½ inches each.

The squares were removed one by one and painted by Brother Loyola in his studio. Brothers of the order, travelling in Rome, Italy, made an especial effort to purchase French colored varnish for the work of art, purchasing it in Paris and bringing it home with them. Since varnish has no pigment, many coats of varnish had to be worked into the intricate designs in order to achieve the proper depth of color.

Also greeting the new classes of students will be the new lettering of "Sacred Heart School"

Brother Loyola worked on the outside cornice and also on the upper sections of the glass doors.

Special Meeting Tonight To Plan Sports Events

A special meeting of members of the Andover Sportsmen's Club will be held tonight at 7:30 in the clubrooms.

President Christopher Muller has asked as many members as possible to attend the meeting, called to discuss the fall program.

Following the special session will be the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors. All committeemen concerned with the annual field day should attend this meeting, Muller said.

On Tuesday, Sept. 10, the regular club business meeting will be held, followed by a color movie on grouse hunting.

A twilight trap shoot will precede the business meeting, under the direction of Robert Souter.
This will be the final trap shoot of the season and it is open to all Greater Lawrence residents.

Robidoux Better After Surgery

Francis Robidoux, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Robidoux of River rd., is reported recovering and out of danger from serious injuries suffered Aug. 26 in a fall from a tree near his home. Young Robidoux is a patient at Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, where last week he underwent a delicate skull operation for a severe fracture and blood clots. The boy was also suffering from burns and the after effects of contact with a wire which he had grabbed when climbing the tree. His leg has been placed in a cast.

Factors Involved In 'Big' Fires

What are the factors involved in "big" fires — those causing losses of $100,000 or more?

The National Board of Fire Underwriters, which recently made extensive research in this area, has listed these:

- Structural deficiencies of the buildings.
- Delayed discovery of the fires.
- Flammable contents of the buildings.

The National Board says that in instances of delayed discovery the buildings were heavily involved before the fire was discovered, usually by a passer-by. In addition, "there was a general lack of competent watch service and automatic sprinkler protection."

In instances of buildings of large undivided areas, it is axiomatic that "large undivided areas make for large losses." The corollary is that where industrial processes are thought to preclude subdivision by fire walls, reasonably adequate subdivision can often be obtained by curtain walls and water curtains.

With regard to big industrial fires in small communities, the National Board says that businesses setting up large operations in small communities should expect to supply their own private fire protection in order to make up this deficiency in public protection. This situation, it says, can be expected to intensify as more and more businesses move away from the larger centers of population.

The secret of success in life, is for a man to be ready for his opportunity when it comes. Disraeli

Beginning at a point on the southerly side of Chestnut Street at the center of a brook culvert, which point is the northeasterly corner of the land now formerly of one Basso; thence easterly by the southerly side of said Chestnut Street seventy-one (71) feet to the land now or formerly of GEORGE EDGAR and MARY DAVIS FOLK; thence southwesterly by said last mentioned land one hundred sixteen and 3/10 (116.3) feet to iron stake, which point is forty-two (42) feet easterly from the westerly boundary of said land herein described; thence southerly by the land of said GEORGE EDGAR and MARY DAVIS FOLK one hundred ninety-two (192) feet more or less to the center of a brook; thence westerly along the center of said brook thirty-nine (39) feet to a point on the junction of a ditch which runs north and south along the westerly boundary line of the premises herein described; thence turning and running westerly by the center of said ditch and bounded westerly by land of said

THEY DID IT IN LAWRENCE — The shock wave similar to that which will be created when a ballistic missile plunges back into the earth's atmosphere is clearly visible in this photograph being examined by Dr. Lloyd P. Smith (right), president of the Research and Advanced Development Division of Avco Manufacturing Corporation and Dr. Arthur Kantrowitz, director of the division's Avco Research Laboratory. The two scientist-executives are looking at a photograph made in a shock tube under conditions simulating hypersonic flight. The Air Force and Avco disclosed a major breakthrough by Avco scientists in solving the critical "re-entry" problem of a 5000-mile intercontinental ballistic missile in its hypersonic flight through space to target. Avco's Research and Advanced Development Division is a prime contractor for the Air Force's Titan ICBM.

WANTS 2-ACRE LOTS IN 1/3 OF TOWN

Another article asks for $500 to paint the town barn at 85 Main st. and two other articles deal with street acceptances. In one, Fred Doyle asks acceptance of Oriole dr., running from Reservoir st. to Argilla rd. The other wants the voters to accept Strawberry Hill rd. and Rennie dr., both running west from Argilla rd.

An article covering proposed sewer construction for the Shaw-sheen Hylands area has not been included in the warrant, although residents last week were busy drawing up the article.

While the special meeting was summoned mainly to consider the BPW's water supply improvements, there is expected to be peak interest in zoning and the gravel pit by-law.

Residents of Ballardvale have been particularly anxious to have a by-law on the books that will allow further control of the pits. And the Selectmen have repeatedly promised to insert such an article at the first opportunity.

Zoning, however, had not been anticipated for this session. Some months ago, when the Planning Board was discussing re-zoning problems, there had been a request for a special town meeting this fall. This was later recalled by the Board, after some members did not agree. At that time, Chairman Lee Noyes and member Fredric O'Brien said such matters should go over to an annual town meeting.

Last week, however, the Board decided to go ahead with its presentation. Chairman Noyes this week said he did not favor the move. Member O'Brien was away on vacation.

No Agreement Seen

It appears evident that the Board will not be agreed on the re-zoning by the time of the special meeting.

Said Chairman Noyes this week: "I don't think there's an article in there that is unanimously agreeable". However, he pointed out that the mechanics — lot frontages and areas — have been agreed to providing the re-zoning is approved by the voters.

(The specific articles are listed in a legal advertisement in this week's issue of the TOWNSMAN.)

New Zone Size

Lot requirements of the new rural zone are 225-foot frontages and 85,000 square feet of area. Under one article, the Planning Board asks that Zone C — the acre lot — be changed in frontage from 200 feet to 180 feet. It will have 45,000 square feet.

One acre is 43,560 square feet.

The articles would have the following areas become "rural" — all land on the other side of new Route 28 and the industrial zone; Foster's Pond area; area surrounding the Harold Parker State Forest and to the By-Pass; Pomp's Pond area and a section roughly bounded by the old railroad tracks, Lowell st., Reservation rd. and Lovejoy rd. The latter area has twice been proposed for expanded lot sizes and has been voted down by town meeting.

To be boosted from B Zone to Zone C is an area from the town line, bounded by the By-Pass to Porter rd., Woburn st. and Ballardvale rd.

It has been estimated that 60 to 70 percent of Zone C will go up to "rural" under the articles and about the same amount of present Zone B will be moved up to the C Zone.

Another article calls for reversing the present Zone B in the Shawsheen Heights area and making it Zone A — 115-foot frontage and 15,000 square feet.

It is recalled that the section, which also includes the Wood and Curran estates, was zoned in the B classification when there was no sewer in the section. There is one now, with the result that some Planning Board members feel it should be returned to A Zone, like surrounding properties.

of 110 through the town.

As was the case with Route 28, citizens and town officials may express their opinions on the route and it is assumed that the state will consider whatever changes may be suggested.

Route 110 has been approved under the federal highway program — which means a 90 percent reimbursement to the state for money spent on the road.
